VOTES AND PROCEEDINGS
OF THE
YUKON LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY

Second Session*34th Legislature

---

Thursday, April 20, 2017

---

This being the day appointed for the opening of the Second Session of the Thirty-fourth Wholly-Elected Legislative Assembly of Yukon for the dispatch of business, the Members took their seats in the House.

The Speaker took the Chair at 3:00 p.m.

Proclamation

The Clerk of the Legislative Assembly, Floyd McCormick, read the Proclamation as follows:

“Greetings

A Proclamation

KNOW YE THAT under and by virtue of the power vested in the Commissioner of Yukon under the Yukon Act (Canada), the First Session of the Thirty-fourth Legislative Assembly of Yukon is prorogued on April 20, 2017, at the hour of twelve o’clock in the afternoon and the Legislative Assembly of Yukon is summoned to meet for dispatch of business in the Legislative Assembly Chamber, Yukon Government Administration Building, Whitehorse, Yukon on April 20, 2017 at the hour of three o’clock in the afternoon.

ALL OF WHICH all persons are required to take notice and themselves accordingly.

GIVEN UNDER my hand and seal of Yukon, at Whitehorse, Yukon, April 6, 2016.

Doug Phillips,

Commissioner of Yukon”

SPEECH FROM THE THRONE

The Commissioner, the Hon. Doug Phillips, entered the Chamber and took the Chair. The Commissioner then delivered the Speech from the Throne as follows:

“Mr. Speaker, Honourable members, friends and people of the Yukon. I have the honour this afternoon to open a new legislative session, a new approach to governing. First, I want to acknowledge that we come together today on the traditional territory of the Kwanlin Dün First Nation and the Ta’an Kwäch’än Council.

Yukon owes much to the rich and enduring history of its First Peoples. For millennia, First Nation people have lived in this land. Its abundance has sustained them for generations, and their customs and culture draw from their connections to the land and its creatures and define their heritage.

Others have come to the Yukon, whether they are lured by a sense of adventure or new opportunities or simply for a better way of life. They have put down roots, raised their families and looked after their grandchildren. Yukon people have embraced this beautiful land with its majestic mountains, its wild spaces and its wealth of natural resources. It inspires artists. It challenges our outdoor enthusiasts. It generates economic wealth.

Honourable members, Yukoners are generous and resilient people. They want for others what they want for themselves: clean air to breathe and clean water to drink, respectful relationships and equality among people, and good jobs. Yukoners want to lead healthy, happy and productive lives. They want the same for their children as they do for their grandchildren. They want to live in vibrant communities and shape the direction of these communities. Yukoners want their governments to serve them. Your new government is working diligently every day to do just that: to serve Yukon people and serve them well. Yukoners deserve no less.

Your new government has set a course for the future. Your government is committed to improving the well-being of Yukoners. It knows all communities matter. It believes strong government-to-government relationships with First Nations benefit Yukon as a whole.

Your new government is committed to a stronger economy. It recognizes Yukoners want good jobs and new business opportunities. They want an economy that respects the environment and the natural gifts of the land. Yukoners also want good government – government that is approachable, transparent and accountable. Working with Yukon people, your new government will make lives better. It will do so through these commitments.

Your new government's approach to wellness – centred on people – will help Yukoners thrive. The strategic investments that your government makes will contribute to healthy, vibrant and sustainable communities. Strong government-to-government relationships will foster reconciliation. Your new government's commitment to a diverse and growing economy will provide good jobs for Yukoners in an environmentally responsible way.

These priorities will drive government's agenda for the coming five years. Your new government will work with the people of the Yukon to achieve this. In doing so, it will base its decisions on evidence, it will manage the territory's financial resources prudently, it will speak forthrightly for Yukon's interests beyond its borders and on the national stage, and it will measure the progress it makes and report on that progress. Your new government will deliver on its fundamental responsibility to make the lives of Yukon people and their families better.

Your new government is committed to a people-centred approach to wellness that helps Yukoners thrive. Its programs and services will support the well-being of Yukoners, from infants to elders. Every child deserves to have the best start in life.

Your government believes in making investments in newborn health. Midwifery can and should be a safe, supported childbirth option in Yukon. Your new government has already started to work on regulating and incorporating midwives in the Yukon health care system. Working with midwives, doctors and other medical professionals, the government anticipates licensing the practice of midwifery later next year.

Yukoners want the best for their children – the best chance at a healthy, happy life. Your government does too. It will increase investments in early learning opportunities to support children's readiness for school. It will invest in more quality childcare to support families and help make their lives better.

Every child deserves a home where they are supported, nurtured and safe. Your government will work with families, communities and First Nations to help ensure every child has a secure childhood and a promising future.

Your government believes that Yukon students deserve a high-quality education – an education that gives them the tools to achieve their full potential and their dreams. Your new government is investing in Yukon classrooms. It's working with the Association franco-yukonnaise and the broader community to build a new school in Whitehorse. Over the next four years, the curriculum in Yukon schools will be transformed, with a focus on skills development and experiential learning. Through the new curriculum, your government will ensure Yukon students will have the skills they need to succeed in the workplace and in life. It will improve the outcome for all students, regardless of where they go to school.

At the post-secondary level, your new government will invest in the trades, skills and career training at Yukon College tailored to the job market of today and tomorrow. At the same time, it will work with the college on its path to becoming a university, giving Yukoners more opportunities to earn post-secondary degrees here at home. Outside the classroom, your new government is making greater investment this year in programs for our young people and the youth groups that deliver them.

Every Yukoner needs public health care that meets their needs. Your new government wants every Yukoner to have a primary health care provider, whether it's a doctor, a nurse practitioner or a nurse working in an expanded role.

It wants a health care system built on a collaborative care model – a model that responds to community needs. It wants more health services delivered in our communities, including services for people who struggle with addictions and mental health issues. With this in mind, it negotiated more than $11 million in new federal contributions for home care and mental health initiatives in its first month in office. Your government will use these new funds to make lives better for Yukon people. It will invest in mental health services in communities throughout Yukon, and in addiction services at the new Sarah Steele treatment facility in Whitehorse. It will also expand its support for land-based healing and home care. It will enhance services in French, with a strong focus on health, based on priorities identified by the Francophone community.

Your government will complete a 150-bed facility for continuing care patients in Whistle Bend while exploring other options for our seniors to age in place. It's true – governments can build buildings. But government is about more than bricks and mortar. It is about programs and services that respond to people's needs and make their lives better.

Next month, the National Inquiry into Missing and Murdered Aboriginal Women and Girls begins its national hearings here in Whitehorse. Your new government is an active participant. Working with the community partners and First Nations, it is developing Yukon solutions to help reduce violence against aboriginal women. This is part of your government's overall effort to reduce incidents of relationship violence and sexual assault, which are still too high in Yukon.

Your government will take a balanced approach in its justice system. It will protect Yukoners and respond to victims' needs while providing rehabilitation that reduces recidivism and addresses issues that lead to incarceration. Your new government supports inclusiveness, equality and a respect for diversity in its programming and services.

During this Sitting, your government will introduce legislation to amend the Human Rights Act to eliminate discrimination on the basis of gender identity and gender expression. This legislation will include changes to the Vital Statistics Act that will make it one of the most progressive laws in the country. These measures are the first steps in a larger review of Yukon laws, policies and practices. Your government will respect the rights of lesbian, gay, transgender, bisexual, queer and two-spirited Yukoners and their ability lead safe, healthy, happy lives as they choose. This is long overdue.

Your new government will make strategic investments in healthy, vibrant, sustainable communities. Communities are the lifeblood of our territory. Municipalities and First Nations are key partners in governance and in the future of the Yukon. Whether you live in Mayo, Carmacks, Haines Junction or Teslin, you need to know that our governments are working together and working for you. Your government believes in local solutions to local concerns to make life better for Yukon people throughout the territory.

Communities must have a meaningful voice in determining and building their future. Next month, members of Cabinet will attend the annual general meeting of the Association of Yukon Communities in Faro. Discussions on priorities for municipality governments will build on conversations that members of Cabinet have had with communities and First Nations in recent months. Your new government will build roads, bridges and other infrastructure to improve the quality of life in Yukon communities.

Key priorities for the coming year include clean water and waste-water projects, and improvements to solid-waste management, diversion and recycling. As more details are known about the federal infrastructure programs, your government will involve communities and First Nations in setting priorities for active living, sustainability and local economic growth.

Your government will also use new federal funding to invest wisely in more affordable, accessible and safe housing across Yukon. This includes exploring a Housing First model to address the needs of our more vulnerable people. It will take a new, more effective approach as to how staff and social housing are provided in our communities. It will engage the private sector in partnerships to develop new ways of delivering these programs that support economic development of the communities. Part of your government's job in building vibrant communities is helping them define the economic future they want, based on their interest and advantages. This leads to local jobs.

Your government believes that we all have a role to play in reducing the impacts of climate change. Our goal is to eliminate diesel as a primary source of energy in Yukon. Getting there will not be easy, but we need to start investing now in this necessary transition.

Your government will focus on smaller renewable energy investments with projects driven by First Nations and communities. It will initiate pilot projects into the potential for electrical energy storage. These can both reduce the use of fossil fuels and extend the viability of renewables. At the same time, we must lower our energy use. Your government will make significant investments in energy retrofits in its buildings, while supporting programs for retrofitting residential and community buildings.

Climate change poses risks to our northern way of life. These challenges require good information on emissions to plan actions and guide investments and to establish effective targets to both reduce greenhouse gases and grow our economy. Your new government will do this work.

Our longer winters and our colder temperatures challenge us in reducing our use of non-renewable resources. It will take time to develop alternative forms of energy. This is why your government is committed to using any money raised through the federal price on carbon for rebates to Yukon individuals and businesses. It will be revenue neutral.

Our communities need to be connected to each other and to the rest of Canada and to the world. Your government is committed to enhancing connectivity and bandwidth for all Yukon communities and beyond. It is now undertaking a thorough review of the two potential routes for a redundant fibre optic line to strengthen Yukon's Internet connection to the Outside. Your government will make a decision based on the evidence of what is best for Yukon people.

Technology can help make Yukoners' lives better in our communities. E-services give ready access to government programs and services throughout the Yukon. This year, your government will expand e-health services on the online corporate registry. It will plan for more e-services to make it easier for people to take advantage of programs and services and meet their needs wherever they live in our territory.

Yukoners live with wilderness on their doorsteps. Being outdoors, hiking, fishing and biking contribute to healthy lifestyles. Your government will improve campground infrastructure to enable Yukoners to enjoy the natural world that surrounds us. It will work with communities on the ideas for enhancing recreational opportunities.

This year, Yukoners will join with other Canadians across the country in commemorating the 150th anniversary of Confederation. Canada 150 allows us an occasion to reflect on our unique identity in the north and on our sense of what it means to be Canadian. It gives us an opportunity to recognize the enduring history of First Nation people, to acknowledge indigenous culture and languages and their contribution to the social fabric of modern Yukon. As Canadians, we have much to celebrate, including our willingness to address the wrongs of the past and to work together for a more promising future for all.

In the course of this year, Yukoners will also recognize the 75th anniversary of the construction of the Alaska Highway. Your government will support community events for both anniversaries from Watson Lake to Beaver Creek, from Tagish to Old Crow.

Honourable members, your new government believes in reconciliation with First Nations – reconciliation built on mutual understanding and respect, reconciliation based on a constructive relationship that contributes to good governance and benefits all Yukoners. In January of this year – just one month after being sworn in – the members of Cabinet and chiefs of Yukon First Nations signed an intergovernmental declaration. It sets the foundation for a renewed relationship based on reconciliation and collaboration. Next month, your new government will meet with the First Nation leaders from across the territory for the second Yukon Forum since coming into office. A ceremonial potlatch bowl presented by the Grand Chief at the January forum will sit at the meeting table as a symbol of our mutual pledge to work together for a stronger Yukon. Working together makes sense. This year, Yukon Days – held in Ottawa in February – were built on a collaborative approach. Together, members of Cabinet and Yukon chiefs met with federal ministers to advocate for programs, services and funding that responds to Yukon's needs. There is strength in a united voice and it's an example for the rest of Canada. Yukon First Nations lead the country in self-governance, yet there is more to do to fully realize the spirit and intent of the final and self-government agreements. It will involve hard work and sometimes difficult conversations. Your new government is committed to this effort. It will work toward reconciliation with all Yukon First Nations and with transboundary First Nations and traditional territories in Yukon.

Working together, Yukon will build a more cohesive society, protect our environment and grow a sustainable economy. As one of its very first priorities, your new government is acting on a promise to make National Aboriginal Day a statutory holiday in Yukon. It will bring to this Legislature a proposal to the House as its first bill. On June 21st, Yukoners will celebrate the historic and cultural roots of this territory. They will honour and recognize the many contributions that First Nations and their citizens have made and continue to make to our unique way of life.

Honoured members, reconciliation will help Yukon progress. Together today, we can build a bright future for all tomorrow.

Your Yukon government is committed to help us strengthen and diversify Yukon's economy. It will encourage all companies to hire Yukoners. It will work with Yukon College to align training programs with market demands. That will mean more Yukoners on the ground to work on projects in our territory. It will encourage business partnerships. Yukon's airline, Air North, is a prime example of how a partnership between an existing business and a First Nation development corporation can grow our economy, creating more jobs, expanding Yukon's reach beyond our borders and making lives better for Yukon people.

The new free trade agreement signed recently with Canada and provincial and territorial governments will make it easier for Yukon businesses to expand outside the territory. It will open up new markets for Yukon products while retaining safeguards for local needs. Improvements in how government procures goods and services can support new opportunities for business and First Nation development corporations. It can create the conditions that enable new private sector jobs in Yukon.

Your new government will tender its major summer construction contracts by the end of March next year. That makes good business sense. It will change the procurement process within the next 12 months to spell out advantages for using local companies, local people and materials. Your new government believes the economy and the environment go hand-in-hand. It believes in responsible resource development.

Already there are positive signs in the mineral sector. Early in its mandate the government approved amendments to the Minto Explorations quartz mining licence. This will extend mining for its operations near Pelly Crossing until later this year.

Victoria Gold is moving forward with plans in the Dublin Gulch area, and there are positive developments for Alexco in the Keno Hill region. Two projects, Kudz Ze Kayah and Coffee Creek, have recently entered Yukon's environmental and socio-economic assessment process. Just last week, Barrick Gold announced that it is investing more than $8 million in ATAC Resources property east of Keno City. This means that half of the world's 10 gold producers have a stake in Yukon. This bodes well for mining here in the territory.

Your government knows support for mineral exploration is paying off. It is increasing assistance this year. It is committed to improving resource roads to placer operations in the Klondike region over the next three years. The mining industry recognizes that certainty is the key ingredient of a prosperous future. Your new government, Yukon First Nations and the Chamber of Mines have united in their efforts to restore confidence in the territory's development assessment process.

By working together with other governments and industry, more benefits can accrue to the Yukon from our mining industry – more good, well-paying jobs, more opportunities for businesses and for First Nations development corporations, and more capacity to grow our economy.

Your new government is working just as hard to support other sectors of the economy as it is for the mining sector. Every year, Yukoners welcome thousands of visitors to our beautiful territory. They come to experience our spectacular landscapes, our rich culture and heritage, and the warmth of our hospitality, yet tourism is a highly competitive sector. Your new government believes there is a need to take a longer term view and a more strategic focus to grow Yukon tourism. To this end, we will engage Yukon partners, communities and First Nations in developing a broad strategy to drive growth to make sure Yukon is a destination of choice.

Marketing funds targeted directly at travellers will become a permanent feature of our efforts to attract visitors to Yukon. More will also be done to develop winter tourism. A summit later this year will define opportunities and investments for sustained growth in this market. To help tourism businesses better understand the interests and expectations of visitors, your government will initiate a comprehensive visitor survey this year.

Yukon's vibrant arts community and a unique heritage can enrich visitors' experience, just as they enrich our lives. Planning will begin this year on how best to give Yukoners and our visitors opportunities to view the many discoveries that have been made over the years in the fossil-rich Klondike gold fields.

This year, your government is funding the cultural centre component of the new learning centre built by the Carcross/Tagish First Nation and it will begin implementing a plan to jointly manage the Conrad historic site with this First Nation.

To enhance growth in Yukon's cultural industries, the government will start discussions this year on a broad-based arts and cultural policy.

Our agricultural industry can support greater selfsufficiency, reducing Yukon's dependence on food imports. The government will work toward a renewed agreement with the federal government this year to build on initiatives of Yukon farmers and agricultural producers. More local food will provide Yukoners with more variety and healthier choices for their well-being.

Yukoners are as innovative as they are adventurous. They are good at figuring out how to solve northern problems with northern solutions. Your new government believes in growing Yukon's knowledge economy. Building the innovation, science and research and IT sectors will strengthen Yukon's economic base. Over the coming year, the government will lay the groundwork for a new multi-million-dollar fund to invest in economic diversification and innovation. It has already made changes to programs for film development and production, giving Yukon media producers access to financial assistance and greater access to national funding sources.

The expansion of government e-services will be designed to create opportunities for local businesses while benefitting our citizens. Development of an open data repository will begin this year to give entrepreneurs access to a wealth of research and the ability to use data in innovative ways.

Research using science and traditional knowledge will point to new ways to marry economic objectives with good stewardship of our environment, because Yukoners want both. They want to earn a good living and they want new economic prospects. They also value a healthy environment and the ability to use their leisure time to hike, fish and hunt and enjoy our wilderness. Both are fundamental to the Yukon way of life and the well-being of our communities.

Honourable members, your new government has been working hard, working with Yukoners to make their lives better. Its collaborative approach with other governments has set a positive new tone. It has engaged with Yukon First Nations in a renewed relationship founded on respect and mutual interest in partnering for the betterment of Yukon.

The joint approach that ministers and chiefs took in Ottawa for Yukon Days has shown others what can be achieved through collaboration. Your government's work with Ottawa has led to significant investments for Yukoners in the recent federal budget for health care, for home care, for mental health care and for affordable housing. There are other opportunities on the horizon. Your government will maximize efforts to ensure federal dollars and opportunities find their way to Yukon.

It has worked with First Nations and the mining industry to support new opportunities for resource development. It has concluded a new free trade deal with other Canadian jurisdictions with new prospects for Yukon businesses while protecting our local interests. It has signed a pan-Canadian accord to address and adapt to the impacts of climate change and support the shift to a cleaner, renewable economy. It has launched a new curriculum in Yukon schools to lay the foundation for our future workforce and our future leaders.

Members of Cabinet have been to the communities across the Yukon to help with today's concerns and listen to their plans for tomorrow, but this is just the beginning. There is much more to do. Your new government has a clear sense of purpose and is tackling that work now. It will continue to do so to make the lives of Yukon people and the lives of their families and communities better. Your government recognizes that it is not just what it does that is important – it is equally important how it does it. Yukoners have the right to be heard; your government will listen. It will involve people in the conversations to shape the decisions that affect them. This is the heart of good governance.

Your new government believes in working with Yukon people. It knows that decisions that respond to the people's needs and desires are the best decisions. It will collaborate with others who have a stake in healthy communities and in people in a stronger economy and in the stewardship of our environment.

Your new government will be approachable and open in its dealings with Yukoners. It will be a strong voice for Yukoners within the Canadian federation. Evidence will drive its decision-making. Your government believes in its responsibility to account for what it does. It will measure progress on its priorities and report on that progress. Yukoners will know that their government is doing what it says it will do to make their lives better.

Honourable members, during this Sitting, you will be asked to consider budgetary measures for the coming year. The budget will give the financial details on the work your government will do with and for Yukon people. It will demonstrate sound fiscal management. It will show the full picture and the costs of delivering programs and services for Yukoners. It will reflect your government's commitment to responsibly managing the territory's finances. Fiscal challenges lie ahead. Your new government will involve Yukon people on how to address these challenges. These discussions will guide our choices for the future. Your new government is confident that these choices will include a future that includes strong, vibrant communities, a robust, diversified economy and a healthy environment, reconciliation among peoples, and a future where Yukon lives are better.

Honourable members, last week, Yukon lost one of the pioneers of responsible government for this territory. From 1958 to 1961, Jim Smith was a member of this House when it was known as the Yukon Territorial Council. He went on to be Commissioner of the Yukon from 1966 to 1976. Commissioner Smith believed in Yukon's political development. He championed the involvement of Yukon's elected representatives in charting the Yukon Territory's future. Members of this House and all Yukoners owe much to that vision – that the people of this territory should shape its own destiny.

His passion for Yukon and his genuine interest in Yukoners from all walks of life and all communities will be greatly missed.

Honourable members, as elected representatives of Yukon, you share a collective responsibility to help guide and shape the future of this territory. As you begin your proceedings, remember the wisdom of the generations who have come before you. Look to the promise of this land and the aspirations of its people. You are all here to work with Yukon people to make their lives better. As you work together, may fairness, respect, humanity and compassion for others guide your deliberations.

Thank you; merci; mahsi'; günilshish."

The Commissioner then retired from the Chamber.

PRAYERS

The Speaker resumed the Chair and called the House to order. Pursuant to Standing Order 11(1), the Speaker offered a prayer.

INTRODUCTION OF DEPUTY SERGEANT-AT-ARMS

The Speaker introduced the Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms:

"It gives me great pleasure at this time to introduce Karina Watson as the Legislative Assembly's new Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms. Ms. Watson recently retired from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police after 27 years of service. Ms. Watson moved to Yukon from the lower mainland of British Columbia, and arrived in Dawson City to take up her first posting in Yukon on November 1, 2008. Ms. Watson worked general duty, traffic, bike patrol, community policing, border integrity and as a drug dog handler. At her retirement, Ms. Watson held the rank of corporal. Ms. Watson spent three years as the operational non-commissioned officer, Ops NCO, in Dawson City. Ms. Watson was then posted to Old Crow for four years as the NCO in charge and one and half years in Faro as the NCO in charge. I would ask members to welcome Ms. Watson to the House at this time. Welcome.

Ms. Watson succeeds Doris McLean as Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms. Ms. McLean was appointed Sergeant-at-Arms following the retirement of Rudy Couture at the end of July 2016. Unfortunately, Ms. McLean cannot be with us today. On behalf of all members of the Assembly, I wish her a speedy recovery to good health and to the service of the House. I understand as well that some members of Ms. McLean's family are in the gallery, and I convey my best wishes to you."

ORAL QUESTION PERIOD

The House conducted the Oral Question Period from 1:31 p.m. to 2:03 p.m.

SPEAKER'S RULING*Unparliamentary language

The Speaker made the following ruling:

"Prior to proceeding to Orders of the Day, the Chair will provide the House with a ruling on a point of order and a statement on a matter of procedure. Both the ruling and the statement are in response to events that occurred yesterday during debate on Motion No. 6.

First to the point of order: During debate the Minister of Highways and Public Works proposed to '... fix the Leader of the Official Opposition's motion to more accurately reflect the new direction of the Yukon government from fast and loose to measured and considered.'

The Official Opposition House Leader then rose on a point of order and said — and I quote: 'I believe that he is using insulting language in a context likely to create disorder. I believe this type of language has been ruled out of order in the past and I would ask that you would rule on it now, or in future.'

The Official Opposition House Leader is correct in that this phrase been ruled out of order in the past. For example, on March 13, 1996 a member used the expression — '... a government that plays fast and loose with laws'. The following day, then-Speaker Devries identified that phrase as unparliamentary.

On November 8, 2010 one member accused another of — quote: '... playing very fast and loose with the facts and the financial position of the Yukon Territory.' Speaker Staffen warned members against employing that kind of terminology.

In these cases, both Speaker Devries and Speaker Staffen determined that the phrase 'fast and loose' was being used to suggest either that the government was violating the law or that an individual member may be deliberately misleading the House. Having reviewed yesterday's Blues, the Chair concludes that the phrase was not used in that way yesterday. Consequently there is no point of order. However, the Chair would reiterate that context is key when it comes to unparliamentary language and the phrase 'fast and loose' could be ruled out of order in the future.

The Chair thanks the Official Opposition House Leader for his point of order, which provided the Chair with the opportunity to bring this distinction to the attention of the House. The Chair would also like to thank the Government House Leader for her contribution on the point of order."

SPEAKER'S STATEMENT*Relevance during debate on amendments

The Speaker made the following statement:

"The Chair will also make a statement about relevance when debating an amendment. Yesterday, during debate on Motion No. 6, the Member for Watson Lake and the Member for Lake Laberge raised points of order regarding the relevance of remarks made by the Minister of Highways and Public Works on the minister's proposed amendment to the motion. The Deputy Speaker dealt with those matters, finding no point of order in either case.

There is no need at this time to revisit the Deputy Speaker's rulings; however, the Chair will, for the information of members, cite Standing Order 35, which says:

'When taking part in a debate on an amendment to a motion:

(a) the member moving an amendment has the right to speak both to the main question and the amendment in one speech;

(b) a member, other than the mover, shall confine debate to the subject of the amendment.'

Once an amendment is before the House, the focus of the debate should be on how the amendment does or does not improve the wording of the main motion. Focusing the debate in this way assists the House in making a decision on the merits of the amendment.

The Chair thanks the Member for Watson Lake and the Member for Lake Laberge for their submissions, and the Deputy Speaker for his rulings. The Chair would also like to thank all members for their attention at this time."

The House then proceeded to Orders of the Day.

SPEAKER'S STATEMENT*Addressing members

The Speaker made the following statement:

“Prior to proceeding with Question Period, the Chair will make a brief statement regarding the manner in which members address one another in the House.

The Chair has heard members on a few occasions – particularly during Question Period – use the word “you” in reference to another member of the House. I would remind all members of Standing Order 17(1), which says – and I quote: “Every member desiring to speak shall rise in his or her place and address the Speaker.” In other words, when a member has the floor, the member is to speak to and through the Chair. The member is not to speak directly to the member who has posed a question or the minister who has provided a response. Members should refer to one another by their electoral district or by some other position that they hold in this Assembly. This is primarily, obviously, for members who are new to their jobs. I am not casting any aspersions on members who have been here for awhile, although it’s useful to remind everyone.

I thank members for their attention.”

MINISTERIAL STATEMENT

ORAL QUESTION PERIOD

The House conducted the Oral Question Period from 1:41 p.m. to 2:15 p.m.

SPEAKER'S STATEMENT*Addressing members

The Speaker made the following statement:

"Firstly, the Chair will now make a statement about the manner in which members refer to themselves and other members during proceedings. Yesterday, during second reading of Bill No. 5, the Member for Takhini-Kopper King referred to herself by name and then corrected herself. The practice of referring to members by their electoral district or another office held applies when members are speaking of other current members in this House. Members are free to refer to themselves by name.

During second reading of Bill No. 5, the Deputy Speaker intervened when the Leader of the Official Opposition identified the Leader of the Third Party by the pronoun "she" rather than as "Leader of the Third Party." The Chair will now clarify for members that the Deputy Speaker's statement does not represent a blanket prohibition against the use of third person pronouns. For example, members are not required to repeatedly refer to a member's electoral district or title held during the course of a single sentence or paragraph. As a rule of thumb, what I would say is that the longer a member has spoken without referencing another member, the more appropriate it will be to refer to the member by a more formal appellation or title.

As a rule, members should endeavour to regularly refer to one another in a formal manner in order to maintain decorum, eliminate any possible misinterpretation and to avoid creating a context that gives the impression that a member is being dismissive of another member."

Introduction of visitors outside the Daily Routine

The Speaker made the following statement:

"Secondly, prior to proceeding to Orders of the Day, the Chair will also make a statement regarding the process by which members introduce visitors, other than the rubric 'Introduction of Visitors' that is part of the Daily Routine. The current practice of this House is that members have risen on a point of order at any time during the sitting day other than Question Period to introduce visitors in the public gallery.

The current practice is problematic in two ways. First, rising to introduce a visitor is not a point of order. Second, these points of order can be raised at awkward times, often interrupting the member who has the floor in mid-sentence.

I have consulted with the House Leaders and I am pleased to inform the House of a modification to this procedure. From now on, a member who wishes to introduce a visitor will be required to send a note to the Speaker, Deputy Speaker, or Chair – whomever is presiding at that time – and that is understood outside the rubric of ‘Introduction of Visitors,’ period.

At that point, the presiding officer will determine the most logical and least disruptive point in the proceedings to allow the introduction to take place. The process for introducing visitors varies across Canada. This modified process is similar to that which is practiced in several Canadian jurisdictions. For members’ general interest, I can advise that the new procedure most closely follows the protocol followed in the assemblies of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

I can also advise that a cross-jurisdictional survey of our Canadian legislatures as well as of the House of Commons in the United Kingdom reveals a range of approaches, from there being limited or no tradition of recognizing visitors, to the Speaker introducing all visitors, to various other hybrid systems.

In my estimation, I suggest this new procedure is among the most flexible and accommodating of potential options, as it recognizes what I perceive to be the members’ consensus of the importance of acknowledging fellow Yukoners and others who have attended to witness the business that is transacted by this House, contrasted with my duty to minimize disruptions of our proceedings. I thank members for their attention to this matter.”

The House then proceeded to Orders of the Day.

SPEAKER'S RULING*Unparliamentary language

The Speaker made the following ruling:

“Prior to Question Period, the Chair will provide rulings on points of order raised during Question Period last Thursday. During that Question Period, the Premier twice used the phrase ‘not true’ and once used the word ‘misleading’ when referring to statements made by and information provided by members of the Official Opposition caucus.

The Official Opposition House Leader and the Member for Lake Laberge each raised points of order in response to the Premier’s use of these terms. In doing so, the Member for Lake Laberge cited Standing Order 19(h), which says, ‘A member shall be called to order by the Speaker if that member... charges another member with uttering a deliberate falsehood.’ The question for the Chair, then, is whether the Premier’s words constituted a breach of Standing Order 19(h).

In their submissions on the points of order, the Official Opposition House Leader and the Member for Lake Laberge cited rulings by the Chair or previous Chair occupants with regard to the use of the same or similar words and phrases. The members are correct that characterizing another member’s statement as untrue has in the past led to interventions by the Chair or points of order that were sustained by the Chair.

However, it is also the case that the phrase ‘not true’ is not always ruled out of order. Here – trip down memory lane – for example, are five instances of the use of the phrase from the 33rd Legislative Assembly. On April 16, 2012, a member said, ‘On Thursday – and I’ll quote – the minister said, “Providing these draft regulations – in the spirit and intent of good comradeship here in this House – itself is debate and public consultation.” That’s not true.’ Then further, on April 24, 2013, a member said – quote: ‘The minister’s statement – it does a disservice to Yukoners and it just doesn’t hold water. It’s just simply not true.’ Then, on May 14, 2013, a member said, ‘The members opposite seem to think we’re going to cut funding for a huge number of groups in the upcoming budget – that’s simply not true.’

Then we move on to November 12, 2013 when a member said – and I quote: ‘For the member opposite to characterize this as that we are “plowing ahead” with the Atlin campground is simply not true.’ Also, on November 12, 2013, a member said, ‘But for the member opposite to characterize the government’s actions to date as not respecting the final agreements is simply not true and I have to take issue with that.’ None of these statements gave rise to a point of order or drew the intervention of the Chair. The situation is similar to the word ‘mislead’ and its variations.

Again referring to the 33rd Legislative Assembly, here are three examples where the use of the word was ruled out of order. On April 2, 2012, a member said, ‘Mr. Speaker, I ask the minister this: Why did she mislead this House?’ On April 18, 2012, a member said, ‘However, the member opposite has made a number of incorrect statements, or statements I take to be incorrect, that might be misleading the Legislature...’ On November 4, 2013, a member said, ‘The government has been trying to mislead Yukoners...’

However, at other times, the use of the word has passed without notice. In responding to the point of order raised by the Official Opposition House Leader, the Chair spoke of the importance of context in determining whether a particular use of a word or phrase is unparliamentary.

The second edition of House of Commons Procedure and Practice says the following at page 619 – and I quote: ‘In dealing with unparliamentary language, the Speaker takes into account the tone, manner and intention of the Member speaking; the person to whom the words at issue were directed; the degree of provocation; and, most importantly, whether or not the remarks created disorder in the Chamber. Thus, language deemed unparliamentary one day may not necessarily be deemed unparliamentary the following day. The codification of unparliamentary language has proven impractical as it is the context in which words or phrases are used that the Chair must consider when deciding whether or not they should be withdrawn. Although an expression may be found to be acceptable, the Speaker has cautioned that any language which leads to disorder in the House should not be used. Expressions which are considered unparliamentary when applied to an individual Member have not always been considered so when applied “in a generic sense” or to a party.’

The challenge for the Chair is to determine whether the phrases ‘not true’ and ‘misleading facts’ in the context in which they were used last Thursday constitute ‘charging another member with uttering a deliberate falsehood’ or whether they constitute an expression of disagreement about the accuracy of statements made and information provided.

After reviewing Thursday’s Blues, the Chair concludes that the Premier did not in either case charge the Member for Lake Laberge with uttering a deliberate falsehood. Had the Premier said that the Member for Lake Laberge had knowingly made an untrue statement or had provided information he knew to be misleading, or with the intent to mislead, the Chair would have likely ruled differently. However, the Chair will reiterate the point made by the Chair of Committee of the Whole on May 11 of this year that members should avoid the use of words like “true” and “untrue”, as they are likely to give rise to points of order, regardless of the intent of the member who utters them.

On another matter – later in Thursday’s Question Period, the Government House Leader rose on a point of order regarding a question from the Leader of the Official Opposition who asked whether the Minister of Highways and Public Works might be thrown ‘under the bus’ by a Cabinet colleague.

The Government House Leader in her submission on the point of order alluded to Standing Orders 19(g) and 19(i). Standing Order 19(i) says: ‘A member shall be called to order by the Speaker if that member ... uses abusive or insulting language, including sexist or violent language, in a context likely to create disorder.’ As the Chair ruled last Thursday, Standing Order 19(i) does not apply in this case as the words of the Leader of the Official Opposition constitute a well-used turn of phrase and were not meant as an actual threat of bodily harm.

The Chair committed to return to the House regarding the Government House Leader’s reference to Standing Order 19(g), which states, ‘A member shall be called to order by the Speaker if that member ... imputes false or unavowed motives to another member.’

Having reviewed the Blues, the Chair concludes there is no point of order pursuant to Standing Order 19(g). The Chair does not believe the words of the Leader of the Official Opposition included the attribution of an unworthy motive to either the Minister of Economic Development or the Minister of Highways and Public Works.

The Chair thanks all members for their attention to these rulings. We will now proceed with Question Period.”

ORAL QUESTION PERIOD

The House conducted the Oral Question Period from 1:20 p.m. to 1:49 p.m.

SPEAKER'S RULING*Unparliamentary language

The Speaker made the following ruling:

"Prior to the Orders of the Day, the Chair will elaborate on the ruling provided yesterday during second reading of Bill No. 3, Budget Measures Implementation Act, 2017.

During that debate, the Member for Lake Laberge said – and I quote: '... we believe that the red ink that we see in future budget years is a significant change from the fiscal year that is shown in the budget projections that we had expected – a $17-million surplus – where we see $216 million in red ink in the Premier's projections. We're not sure whether this is due to overstatement in the budget that may or may not be deliberate...'

The Government House Leader then rose on a point of order and said that the Member for Lake Laberge's use of the phrase 'may or may not be deliberate' was not sufficient language to disguise the member's suggestion that the Premier was somehow deliberately misleading the House.

In response, the Member for Lake Laberge said that the Chair, in his ruling on May 29, 2017, had '... referenced a number of instances where it was, in fact, contextually acceptable to even say that the minister was deliberately misleading the House'.

The Chair will make two points regarding this point of order. First, in ruling on yesterday's point of order, the Chair said his initial reaction was similar to the ruling provided on May 23, 2017, the gist of which was that members cannot do in the hypothetical that which they could not do in the positive.

After reviewing the Blues, the Chair would reiterate that point with regard to the point of order raised yesterday. To put it in a different way, a member cannot do indirectly what a member cannot do directly.

The second point is to clarify any ambiguity that may remain from the ruling provided on May 29. While the word ‘mislead’ and its variations may be used in certain contexts, it is not in order for a member to state or suggest, directly or indirectly, that another member has deliberately misled the House. Therefore, the comment made by the Member for Lake Laberge was not in order.

The Chair thanks all members for their attention to this ruling.”

The House then proceeded to Orders of the Day.
